

The Wainwrights

Summer 2022

A, hopefully, very warm welcome to The Wainwright this Summer from manager, Johan, and his team.

As we all get used to the old way of doing things again (or nearly anyway) there have been some upheavals in the team, in line with most of the hospitality business.

The Ins and Outs

We say goodbye, with our best wishes, to our Assistant Manager John, K P Steve, and cleaner 'B'.

We welcome a number of replacements, some new and some as returning favourites. Replacing John as Assistant Manager is Cailee, assisted behind the bar by new faces, Tom and Riley, with Joe and Ben rejoining the team.

In the kitchen we welcome Paul, and Stewart joins us as cleaner.

Keswick Beer Festival 2022

An old friend of Keswick's is back this year in the form of the Keswick Beer Festival!. This two-day feast of real ales, in aid of the Keswick Lions charity, succumbed to Covid and was cancelled, so it's marvellous to see it return!

It's with great pride that we've, once again, been able to sponsor a barrel at the festival.

This year's contribution is, once again, a Cumbrian favourite, being Tirril's Castlerigg Blonde.

CAMRA Summer of Pub!

While we're on the subject of real ale we'd like to give a mention to CAMRA's Summer of Pub. This campaign promotes real ales and the pubs that use them through a range of competitions and events. For more info see <https://tinyurl.com/2p9hjvk4>

Healing The Scars

There's very little that wasn't touched by the Covid pandemic, and The Wainwright is no exception.

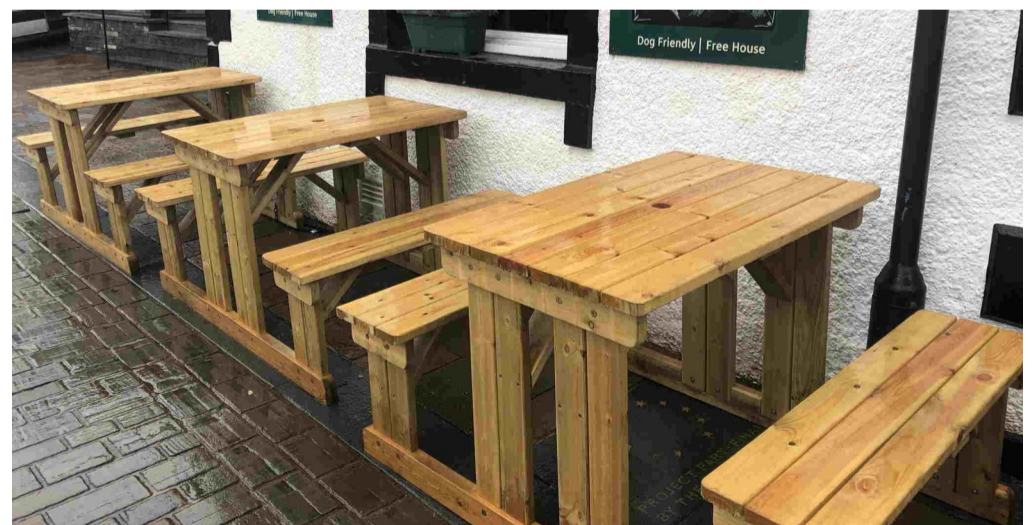

As part of the remediation we, like all hospitality businesses, introduced a number of procedural changes, such as sign-in books, provision of PPE, at-table serving etc.

More permanent were the structural changes, like floor signage and the flimsiest barriers in Britain! When these restrictions were lifted, we were faced with a choice, to remove all trace that they'd ever existed, or to keep some physical remembrance of what we all endured. We've decided, for the time being at least, to leave the holes and the traces of demarcation of safe zones on the floor.

The Front Benches

No, not the House of Commons! You will, no doubt, have seen the new benches outside the front of the pub when you came in. The use of the front of the pub, since licenses came in, have proved very popular. So we've replaced the mish-mash of small tables and chairs with more substantial benches.

We thank you all for your custom as we get back to normal service, and we look forward to seeing you next time.
